

MONTHLY NEWSLETTER | MARCH EDITION

Our featured project this month is the Montage located in Reno, Nevada.

FEATURED EMPLOYEE

For our first employee feature, we wanted to highlight the president of ECO Windows, Roman Masznicz! Roman first founded ECO Windows in 2009 in Sparks, Nevada. Today, he employs a team of 15 dedicated and ambitious employees. Roman’s favorite movie is Gladiator, his favorite drink is an old-fashioned, and his favorite hobby is golfing! Roman will be celebrating his 50th birthday on March 20th.

THE IMPORTANCE OF STC RATINGS

Sound Transmission Class (STC) is a rating system that determines the reduction of noise. A higher STC rating will block out more outside noise than a lower rating. While designing a new office or apartment complex, it’s important to consider the amount of outside noise that will be blocked because this can drastically improve someone’s quality of life whether it be their work or living space. That’s why even our most standard windows are produced with commercial-grade vinyl profiles that protect against sound transmission. Our windows block out the outside world so well that you won’t even notice it’s working. For visual/auditory examples, please visit our Instagram @ecowindowsllc.
